Introduction

Creative development in art, music, theatre and dance is central to the College of Creative Arts. Made up of three professionally accredited and nationally recognized Schools of Art & Design, Music, and Theatre & Dance, the College provides students with a place where young artists forge a personal understanding between artistic practice and theory and form personal and professional insights that explore and expand the nature of human creativity. Combining performance, exhibition, and scholarship in ways that address both traditional and innovative approaches to art, music, theatre and dance, students gain a greater understanding of the arts—and, in turn, themselves.

A distinguished faculty of scholars and artists bring to the College’s outstanding facilities a commitment to a creative process of artistic growth. In a rich environment of plays, exhibitions, and concerts, the College offers students the knowledge, skills, and inspiration necessary for artistic and professional success.

Graduation Requirements

Each School in the College of Creative Arts has specific graduation requirements for their programs. Students should refer to the individual program descriptions for graduation.

Application for Graduation

Three semesters prior to the anticipated date of graduation, each student should come to the College of Creative Arts Records Office to request an academic records audit to ensure that all program requirements will be fulfilled by the completion of the final semester of study. During the first month of a student’s final semester or summer session (the one in which the student will graduate), each student must apply for graduation and a diploma. If a student does not actually complete all program requirements by the end of the anticipated final semester, it will be necessary to reapply for a later graduation date. No candidate can graduate without this application.

Admission Requirements
The College of Creative Arts uses the admission standards and procedures of the University, and acceptance into the College and/or one of its Schools is contingent upon admission to WVU as an undergraduate student. Each School within the College also has individual admission requirements.

• The School of Music requires that all applicants complete a successful audition before consideration for admission into one of its programs.
• The School of Art & Design requires all applicants to the Bachelor of Fine Arts in studio art to submit and successfully pass a portfolio review before admission into the program.
• The School of Theatre & Dance may audition prospective students before an admission decision.

Potential students should refer to the specific admission criteria of each school found in their program descriptions in this catalog and on the School’s website.

Students transferring to the College of Creative Arts from other colleges and universities are required to present a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 in addition to the standard auditions or portfolio reviews. Special exceptions may be made in the case of first-semester freshman students.

Because of the creative nature of the Arts, some students may be admitted under the individual consideration clause of the University’s general admission policy. This category allows admission of exceptionally talented students in art, music, and theatre who might not meet the criteria for grade point averages and standardized test scores to be admitted to one of the College’s programs of study.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

The College of Creative Arts offers a number of special College-based scholarship awards for freshman and current students enrolled in its programs. College-based awards are granted on the demonstration of outstanding talent, academic achievement, and the student’s potential for success in their chosen area of study. These undergraduate scholarships are a form of financial aid that helps students pay for their education. In order to receive and maintain an award from the College, a student must plan to enroll or be enrolled as a full-time major in one of the College’s programs of study.

A number of cash awards are also available to entering freshmen and current majors. All cash awards are applied toward the recipient’s tuition balance through the WVU Financial Aid office. Amounts in excess of the tuition can be applied to any other outstanding balance on the student’s account. Cash awards cannot exceed the total cost of attendance.

For general information on College-based scholarships, please contact the College of Creative Arts Recruitment Office at ccarecruitment@mail.wvu.edu. Because each School in the College of Creative Arts has specific criteria for its scholarships or cash awards, students should refer to the School’s individual program descriptions in this catalog and on the School’s website.

College of Creative Arts’ scholarship and cash awards are not made on the basis of financial need; however, the receipt of a scholarship may affect a student’s overall financial aid package. Recipients of other forms of financial aid who also receive a scholarship or cash award from the College should consult with the WVU Financial Aid office to discuss the parameters of their complete financial aid package. To get more information about financial aid as well as other University-based scholarships, please visit the WVU Financial Aid website at http://financialaid.wvu.edu/.

Requirements for academic minors are set by the School offering the minor, and the student should consult each individual School’s program description in this catalog or the School’s website for the program’s specific requirements.
