Degrees Offered

- Master of Science
- Doctor of Education
- Doctor of Philosophy

The College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences (CPASS) offers master's degree programs in coaching and sport education (on-campus), sport education (online), physical education teacher education (on-line), sport management (oncampus and on-line) and athletic training. The distance education masters degree in sport management offers two areas of emphasis: Comprehensive Sport Industry Management and Interscholastic Athletic Administration. Students can start the distance education master's degree programs at the start of any semester (i.e., Fall, Spring, and Summer). The Ph.D. program in kinesiology, administered through the College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences, has two major areas: sport, exercise and performance psychology and coaching and teaching studies (designed for students interested in athletic coaching education or physical education teacher education).

The facilities of the College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences include the gymnasium and swimming pool in E. Moore Hall; indoor track and sports area in the Shell Building; outdoor areas including tennis courts, grass and turf fields, and the outdoor track; and the Natatorium with its pool and diving well. The College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences moved into a new building bordering the Student Recreation Center and intramural fields in July of 2014. This building has 8 technology based classrooms, three large seminar/conference rooms, a computer lab, research space, a teacher behavior laboratory, sport psychology consulting laboratory, fitness room, multipurpose room, and faculty offices.

For additional information, contact the Graduate Coordinator, College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences, 375 Birch St., P.O. Box 6116, West Virginia University, Morgantown, WV 26506-6116.

ADMINISTRATION
DEANS OFFICE
- Jack Watson - Ph.D. (Florida State University)
  Interim Dean

DEPARTMENT CHAIRS
- Valerie Wayda - Ed.D. (West Virginia University)
  Chair, Coaching and Teaching Studies

PROFESSORS EMERITI
- William Alsop
- Dallas Branch
- Dana Brooks
- Linda Carson
- J. William Douglas
- Andrew Hawkins
- Lynn Housner
- Andrew Ostrow
- Robert Wiegand
- Bruch Wilmoth
- Daniel Ziatz

Degree Designation Learning Outcomes

MASTER OF SCIENCE (MS)

A mission of the College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences is to prepare students to become effective practitioners and leaders in their respective fields and to enhance the quality of life of the citizens of West Virginia and beyond. The college offers traditional on-campus program emphasis areas in Athletic Training, Coaching and Sport Education, and Sport Management. In addition, the college offers online degree emphasis areas in Physical Education Teacher Education, Sport Coaching, and Sport Management. These programs are characterized by curricular experiences which are designed to broaden perspectives, enrich awareness, deepen understanding, establish disciplined habits of thought, prepare for meaningful careers, and thus help individuals become informed, responsive and productive citizens.
Students in Masters of Science degree programs in CPASS

- Demonstrate skill to utilize various forms of assessment to inform professional practice
- Critically evaluate research to understand best practices in one's chosen field of study
- Develop an understanding of current issues effecting professional practice
- Engage in professional development to improve practice in field

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION (EDD)

A mission of the College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences is to prepare students to become effective practitioners and leaders in their respective fields and to enhance the quality of life of the citizens of West Virginia and beyond. The college offers a Doctorate of Education in Physical Education Teacher Education. These programs are characterized by curricular experiences which are designed to broaden perspectives, enrich awareness, deepen understanding, establish disciplined habits of thought, prepare for meaningful careers, and thus help individuals become informed, responsive and productive citizens.

Students in the Doctor of Education program in CPASS

- Develop leadership and advocacy skills for professional practice
- Demonstrate teaching skills within one's area of professional practice
- Interpret and applying knowledge to enhance professional practice
- Demonstrate interdisciplinary knowledge in kinesiology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY (PHD)

A mission of the College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences is to prepare students to become effective practitioners and leaders in their respective fields and to enhance the quality of life of the citizens of West Virginia and beyond. The college offers a Doctorate of Kinesiology with an emphasis in Coaching and Teaching Studies or Sport, Exercise and Performance Psychology. These programs are characterized by curricular experiences which are designed to broaden perspectives, enrich awareness, deepen understanding, establish disciplined habits of thought, prepare for meaningful careers, and thus help individuals become informed, responsive and productive citizens.

Students in Doctor of Philosophy program in CPASS

- Generate new knowledge based upon theoretical underpinnings
- Synthesize information in an area of study and effectively communicate in oral and written form
- Demonstrate ability to prepare future practitioners through teaching, scholarly and professional development activities
- Evaluate literature and engage in research appropriate to chosen area of emphasis