

Sociology

Degrees Offered

- Master of Arts
- Doctor of Philosophy

Nature of the Program

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology offers an M.A. and Ph.D. in Sociology. All students entering the program will be enrolled as doctoral students. Students entering the program with a BA/BS will be dually enrolled in the M.A. and Ph.D. programs until they complete the M.A. requirements.

The Ph.D. program is designed for students who are interested in working as professional sociologists in teaching and research. The curriculum emphasizes foundational coursework in sociology, including theory, methods and statistics, as well as courses and independent research in an area related to the department's specializations in:

- crime, law, and deviance;
- inequality, diversity, and equity;
- social psychology and group processes;
- sociology of religion.

The department is strongly committed to teaching, mentoring, and collaborative research with students. Members of the faculty have received major research grants, won national teaching and research awards, published several books and numerous academic articles, and served as the editor or editorial board members of prestigious journals. In many cases, students have worked as research collaborators with faculty and co-authored publications.

Admissions

PH.D. IN SOCIOLOGY

The program in Sociology only admits directly to the Ph.D. In addition to WVU's general admission requirements (<http://catalog.wvu.edu/graduate/graduateeducationatwestvirginiauniversity/#classificationtext>), applicants to the Doctoral program must have minimum of a 3.0 overall GPA in the prior degree. Students who enter the program with a Bachelor's degree or a non-thesis Master's degree are required to complete the M.A. degree (<http://catalog.wvu.edu/graduate/everlycollegeofartsandsciences/sociologyandanthropology/ma/>) as part of their progress toward the Ph.D. The GRE is not required for admission to this program.

List of Admission Requirements:

- See the steps to apply for admissions and access the application here (<https://graduateadmissions.wvu.edu/how-to-apply/>).
- Transcripts from all institutions attended.
- Three letters of recommendation from academic references.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A statement of purpose (personal statement, approximately one page in length) that addresses the applicant's research interests and how they might add to the graduate program. The statement should also identify faculty members they might work with if they were admitted to the program.
- A writing sample that provides evidence the applicant can synthesize ideas and demonstrate critical thought. The sample might include a senior research paper or sections of a thesis project.

International Applicants:

- See the steps to apply for admissions and access the application here (<https://graduateadmissions.wvu.edu/how-to-apply/>).
- International applicants should view additional requirements here (<http://catalog.wvu.edu/graduate/graduateeducationatwestvirginiauniversity/#internationaltext>) and here (<https://graduateadmissions.wvu.edu/information-for/international-students/>).
- Language proficiency is required in order to hold a graduate teaching assistantship. See here (<https://elli.wvu.edu/testing-resources/english-proficiency-gtas/>).

Application Deadlines:

- The Sociology program admits students for the Fall semester only.
- Completed applications should be received by January 15th.
- Students who apply by the deadline will receive priority consideration for funding.
- Applications may be reviewed past the deadline pending the availability of space.
- Exceptional applicants may be nominated by the Sociology program for competitive University Fellowships. Qualified applicants will be notified if they are nominated. More information on WVU fellowships can be found here (<https://graduateeducation.wvu.edu/finances/fellowships/>).

For questions, please contact: soca@mail.wvu.edu

Certain application requirements may be waived based on a preliminary review of an application by the program.

Degree Progress

All students will have a plan of study and will receive, at a minimum, a yearly letter of evaluation.

MASTERS

In addition to maintaining GPA requirements, full-time students must receive acceptance of their thesis proposal no later than November 20 of the third semester of the M.A. program (see the Sociology Graduate Handbook for details (<https://soca.wvu.edu/students/graduate-students/graduate-handbook/>)).

DOCTORAL

Comprehensive exams should take place in the last semester of coursework or the first semester following the completion of coursework. Students might complete comprehensive exams and a dissertation proposal defense in the same semester, provided they complete the comprehensive exam process by mid-semester (see the Sociology Graduate Handbook for details (<https://soca.wvu.edu/students/graduate-students/graduate-handbook/>)).
