Advertising and Public Relations

Degree Offered

• Associate of Arts

Nature of the Program

The advertising and public relations major teaches students how to develop and produce persuasive and educational messages and integrated communications campaigns that employ both public relations and advertising tactics.

Students gain real-world experience in writing, research, and graphic design through coursework that allows them to plan and produce promotional and educational campaigns and materials for actual clients including The Pasquino, WKYW-LP Mountain Streams Radio, nonprofits, small communities and College projects. Summer internships are also available.

Career Opportunities

Four-year graduates are prepared to pursue careers in advertising and marketing agencies, public relations agencies, corporations, nonprofits, government, education, entertainment, sports, healthcare, and other public-sector fields, or as consultants or business owners.

Some pursue graduate degrees in law or other specialized graduate programs. Those students who wish to go on to graduate school have a solid grounding in writing, research, analysis, and communications.

Admissions

Entering freshmen are admitted directly into the major.

Benchmark Expectations

Students must maintain a GPA of 2.0 overall and a C- or higher in all required JRL and STCM courses for graduation. All majors must meet with their adviser every semester. Students who do not meet these benchmarks may be removed from their major.
