Made up of three professionally accredited and nationally recognized Schools of Art & Design, Music, and Theatre & Dance, the College provides students with a place where young artists forge a personal understanding between artistic practice and theory and form personal and professional insights that explore and expand the nature of human creativity. Combining performance, exhibition, and scholarship in ways that address both traditional and innovative approaches to art, music, theatre and dance, students gain a greater understanding of the arts—and, in turn, themselves.

A distinguished faculty of scholars and artists bring to the College's outstanding facilities a commitment to a creative process of artistic growth. In a rich environment of plays, exhibitions, and concerts, the College offers students the knowledge, skills, and inspiration necessary for artistic and professional success.

Interested students should work with their academic advisor in developing a program of study that includes a study abroad experience.

Graduation Requirements

Each School in the College of Creative Arts has specific graduation requirements for their programs. Students should refer to the individual program descriptions for graduation.

Application for Graduation

Three semesters prior to the anticipated date of graduation, each student should come to the College of Creative Arts Records Office to request an academic records audit to ensure that all program requirements will be fulfilled by the completion of the final semester of study. During the first month of a student's final semester or summer session (the one in which the student will graduate), each student must apply for graduation and a diploma. If a student does not complete all program requirements by the end of the anticipated final semester, it will be necessary to reapply for a later graduation date. No candidate can graduate without this application.

Degree Designation Learning Goals

The language stated in the learning goals for the College of Creative Arts undergraduate programs is based on (directly quoted, paraphrased or modified) current standards written and employed by the Council of Arts Accrediting Associations (National Association of Schools of Art and Design, National Association of Schools of Dance, National Association of Schools of Music and National Association of Schools of Theatre).

With the exception of the Bachelor of Multidisciplinary Studies in the Arts and the Bachelor of Art in Dance, which are pending “intent for accreditation,” the appropriate association of the Council has awarded accreditation to all of West Virginia University's undergraduate degree programs within the College of Creative Arts.

As stated by the Council of Arts Accrediting Association:

National accreditation requirements outline threshold standards for institutional and individual achievement. These thresholds indicate essentials; they are rigorous. Attaining them represents a significant accomplishment. Therefore, these standards are both a foundation and a framework for specific achievements and evaluations of their quality.

The general learning goals listed below are for undergraduate degrees offered by the College. Specific learning goals for individual majors and programs are listed under each School's section of the catalog. Due to the nature of the College's specialized degrees, none of these goal lists are intended to be comprehensive.

Admission Requirements

The College of Creative Arts uses the admission standards and procedures of the University; acceptance into the College and/or one of its Schools is contingent upon admission to WVU as an undergraduate student. Each School within the College also has individual admission requirements.

- The School of Music requires that all applicants complete a successful audition before consideration for admission into one of its programs.
- The School of Art & Design requires all applicants to the Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) in studio art to submit and successfully pass a portfolio review before admission into the program.
- For the School of Theatre and Dance Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) programs in theatre, the School requires that all applicants complete a successful audition and interview before consideration for admission into one of its BFA programs.
- For the School of Theatre and Dance Bachelor of Arts (BA) program in theatre, the School uses an open admission policy.
- For the School of Theatre and Dance Bachelor of Arts (BA) major in Dance, the School requires all applicants complete a successful audition before consideration for admission.

Potential students should refer to the specific admission criteria of each school found in their program descriptions in this catalog and on the School's website. Students should also check the College's website for audition dates which are held throughout the year.

Students transferring to the College of Creative Arts from other colleges and universities are required to present a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 in addition to the standard auditions or portfolio reviews. Special exceptions may be made in the case of first-semester freshman students.

Because of the creative nature of the Arts, some students may be admitted under the individual consideration clause of the University's general admission policy. This category allows admission of exceptionally talented students in art, music, and theatre who might not meet the criteria for grade point averages and standardized test scores to be admitted to one of the College's programs of study.

These undergraduate scholarships are a form of financial aid that helps students pay for their education. In order to receive and maintain an award from the College, a student must plan to enroll or be enrolled as a full-time major in one of the College's programs of study.

Because each School in the College of Creative Arts has specific criteria for its scholarships or cash awards, students should refer to the School's individual program descriptions in this catalog and on the School's website.

College of Creative Arts' scholarship and cash awards are made based on student talent, the needs of the College, and the student's financial needs. Students who receive a scholarship should note that any award from the College may impact one's overall financial aid package. Recipients of other forms of financial aid who also receive a scholarship or cash award from the College should consult with the WVU Financial Aid office to discuss the parameters of their complete financial aid package. To get more information about financial aid as well as other University-based scholarships, please visit the WVU Financial Aid website at <http://financialaid.wvu.edu/>.

Requirements for academic minors are set by the School offering the minor, and the student should consult each individual School's program description in this catalog or the School's website for the program's specific requirements.
