

Multidisciplinary Studies, B.MdS.

Degree Offered

- Bachelor of Multidisciplinary Studies

Nature of the Program

The College of Creative Arts and Media Multidisciplinary Studies (MDS) program enables students to earn a Bachelor of Multidisciplinary Studies (B.MdS.) degree by following an individualized course of study based on their own academic interests and goals. Combined with the University's General Education Foundations, the degree allows students to choose three different academic minors to create their own educational plan. At least two of the three minors must be from programs within the College of Creative Arts and Media. The third minor can be from the College of Creative Arts and Media or from one of the other minor programs available at West Virginia University. Students who decide to have all three minors from the College of Creative Arts and Media can only have two from the same area (art, dance, music, theatre, or media).

Each MDS course of study culminates with a "capstone" project where MDS students demonstrate what they have learned during their time at West Virginia University. The capstone must be selected from one of the capstone opportunities offered by the College of Creative Arts and Media where the student has completed a minor.

Students in the College's MDS program are welcome to participate in the many performance, exhibition, internship, and study-abroad opportunities offered by the College. Participation may require the completion of certain coursework and/or a successful audition/review process.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

The College of Creative Arts and Media offers a limited number of special College-based scholarship awards for freshmen and current students enrolled in its programs. College-based awards are granted on the demonstration of outstanding talent, academic achievement, and the demonstration of potential success in the MDS program.

Information regarding both University and College of Creative Arts and Media Scholarships can be found on the College's website.

Admissions for 2025-2026

Acceptance into the College of Creative Arts and Media Bachelor of Multidisciplinary Studies (BMDS) program is contingent upon admission to WVU as an undergraduate student. Some Creative Arts and Media minors require that the student must complete a successful audition/review process in order to enroll and/or complete the course of study. When required, the audition/review is a preliminary assessment of a student's potential for program success and should be completed before declaring the minor. Also, due to capacity limitations, enrollment in some Creative Arts and Media minors may be limited.

Interested students are advised to check the requirements for each minor of interest. Minor requirements are listed under the individual programs in this catalog. Students who wish to transfer from another major within the University are required to have a 2.0 GPA to enter the CCAM BMDS program.
