

Advertising and Public Relations, B.S.J.

Degree Offered

- Bachelor of Science in Journalism

Nature of the Program

The advertising and public relations major teaches students how to ethically serve and engage diverse audiences in all sectors of society. Students learn how to develop and manage creative, integrated and strategic campaigns. Students in this major select an area of emphasis (AOE) in either advertising or public relations to complement their strategic communications coursework. Both majors require creativity and critical thinking.

Students build skills in writing, research, strategy, design, digital and social media, as well as the ethics, history and laws that provide a foundation for their field. They may further their expertise through such courses as Martin Hall Agency, crisis communication, international communication, event planning, advocacy communication, visual storytelling, media planning, influencer marketing and study abroad experiences. Students plan and produce promotional and educational campaigns and materials for actual clients, which include local businesses, nonprofits and communities, as well as larger grant-funded projects that impact the state. As a result, students gain real-world experience that can lead to careers in advertising and public relations agencies, corporations, nonprofits, government, education, entertainment, sports, healthcare, and other fields.

ADVERTISING AREA OF EMPHASIS

Students who select the advertising AOE within the advertising and public relations major obtain a solid foundation in creative copywriting and design, media planning, audience insights and analysis, and campaigns. Additional courses in ideation, strategic social media and account management are available to round out students' individual interests. They go on to work at advertising and marketing agencies, within corporate communications offices, as media planners, or as consultants and business owners. The advertising curriculum also affords a solid foundation for law or other specialized graduate programs. The School of Media and Communications offers a 3 + 3 degree in collaboration with the College of Law for high-achieving students.

PUBLIC RELATIONS AREA OF EMPHASIS

Students who select the public relations AOE within the advertising and public relations major take courses in strategic writing and social media, design, audience research and analysis, and campaigns. Additional courses that apply to the major include special event planning, crisis communication, multi- and interactive media, international public relations and influencer marketing. Students go on to work at communications agencies, in government, healthcare organizations, nonprofits, corporations and politics. Those students who wish to go on to law or graduate school have a solid grounding in writing, research, analysis and communications. The School of Media and Communications offers a 3 + 3 degree in collaboration with the College of Law for high-achieving students.

Admissions for 2025-2026

- Admission to the School of Media and Communications (p. 1)
- Scholarships (p. 1)
- Choosing a Major (p. 1)
- Accelerated Bachelor's/Master's Program (p. 2)

Admission to the School of Media and Communications

For specific information regarding the admissions requirements for First Time Freshmen to the School of Media and Communications, please visit Admission to the School of Media and Communications (<http://catalog.wvu.edu/undergraduate/collegeofcreativeartsandmedia/media/#admissionsrequirements>text). WVU students with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher can declare a major in the School of Media.

Students who do not meet these criteria will automatically be enrolled in WVU's Center for Learning, Advising and Student Success (CLASS). Students advised in CLASS may declare a major in the School of Media and Communications once they have earned a cumulative GPA of 2.0 at WVU.

Scholarships

In addition to financial aid from West Virginia University, the School of Media and Communications offers a number of scholarships each year to incoming freshmen. All students applying for scholarships must file a FAFSA form by the deadline, even if they are not eligible for need-based aid.

Choosing a Major

The School of Media and Communications offers five majors: advertising and public relations, integrated marketing communication, journalism, sports and adventure media and multidisciplinary media studies.

Direct admission students are admitted to the School upon admission to the University and declare their majors at that time.

Accelerated Bachelor's/Master's Programs

Students in the advertising and public relations or journalism undergraduate programs in the School of Media and Communications with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.3 are eligible for the Accelerated Masters of Science in Journalism program. This allows students to customize a research project that is relevant to their interests, whether they are Advertising and Public Relations or Journalism majors. Interested students are identified during their initial year or two at the School, and, if interested, must meet with their academic advisor, by the fall of their junior year. Freshmen and sophomores are welcome to stop by to discuss the program as well.

Students in the advertising and public relations, integrated marketing communications, journalism or multidisciplinary media studies undergraduate programs in the School of Media and Communications and with a GPA in excess of 3.3 will be eligible for admission to the Accelerated Masters of Science in Integrated Marketing Communications program beginning in first semester of their junior year. They will meet with the School of Media and Communications undergraduate online programs advisor, Aaron Hawley, and work closely with him to apply for admission to the program. Students will be admitted to the program no later than the second semester of their junior year and begin taking graduate courses during the first semester of their senior year.

3+3 BSJ/JD

Qualifying students also may apply for the 3+3 BSJ/JD degree program, which is a collaborative program of the WVU School of Media and Communications and the College of Law. More information about accelerated programs can be found on the School of Media and Communications website.

Major Code: 3724

Major Learning Outcomes

ADVERTISING AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Reed School of Media and Communications states as its learning goals the values and competencies of its national accrediting body, the Accrediting Council for Education in Journalism and Mass Communications, which appear under information about the B.S. in Journalism degree. In addition, the School faculty have set other specific educational outcomes deemed critical for success as professional communicators. These additional educational outcomes for advertising and public relations majors are:

1. Advertising and public relations graduates will understand how to serve, reflect and engage diverse publics and will be prepared to either work in the field or to pursue advanced educational opportunities.
2. Advertising and public relations graduates will demonstrate professional competency in preparing campaign plans, using both traditional and digital means, including obtaining, analyzing and interpreting data; establishing goals and objectives; identifying appropriate strategies; developing creative tactics; and understanding budgeting, timeframes, and success indicators/evaluation.
3. Advertising and public relations graduates will demonstrate an understanding of the history of media, advertising, public relations, and the influence of technology on the communication professions.
4. Advertising and public relations graduates will demonstrate the ability to professionally present ideas in all forms: written, verbal, and with the use of appropriate digital/electronic audio-visual materials.
5. Advertising and public relations graduates will understand the working relationship between advertising and public relations, as well as related marketing communications vehicles and media planning and placement.
6. Advertising and public relations graduates will be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of communication ethics and law as it applies to advertising, media and public relations, including privacy in the context of database marketing, artificial intelligence and social media.
7. Advertising and public relations graduates will be able to work effectively and collaboratively in teams to create messages, solve problems and develop and implement integrated communication strategies using human-centered design principles.
