World Languages, Literatures, and Linguistics

Degree Offered
Bachelor of Arts, with six possible areas of emphasis
- Chinese Studies
- French
- German
- Italian
- Russian Studies
- Spanish

Nature of Program
Coursework is offered in foreign literature and cultures, linguistics, and languages, including Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Latin (Classics), Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish. Literature courses taught in English are designated as Foreign Literature in Translation (FLIT) courses. Culture and film courses taught in English are designated as Foreign Cultures (FCLT) courses. Other areas of instruction are Language Teaching Methods (LANG), dealing with second language acquisition and teaching methodology, Linguistics (LING), and English as a Second Language (ESL).

The primary goal of the program in foreign languages is to provide students with a solid liberal arts education that is the foundation for personal and professional success and growth over a lifetime. The curriculum is designed to provide students with well-developed cognitive and communication skills and with a broad knowledge base that will enable them to pursue additional studies at the graduate level or to enter the job market in positions that will demand the ability to communicate in more than one language and in a variety of cultural contexts.

Career Goals for Graduates
In today’s rapidly increasing global economy, students may use foreign language study to add a valuable international dimension to myriad career opportunities such as teaching, business, economics, government work and Foreign Service, journalism, law, medicine, computer, and other scientific research.

Study Abroad
The Department of World Languages regularly offers language courses abroad. Currently, summer courses are offered in Canada, China, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Mexico, Spain, and Taiwan. Students participating in a summer program normally register for six credit hours. Contingent upon funding and faculty availability, the department offers similar programs every year. Course work completed abroad at the appropriate level can be used to fulfill various requirements for the major, with permission from a World Language adviser.

Credit for Prior Knowledge
Many of our students have studied another language in high school, or are native speakers of the language they wish to study. The Department of World Languages offers several ways in which knowledge can be turned into College credit.

Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate
Students who have passed AP or IB courses in high school can earn College credits for courses ranging from 101 to 204, depending on their scores. Please consult the equivalency table on the Office of Admissions website.

Placement Testing
- Students who have studied French, German, or Spanish in high school and who wish to continue the study of these languages at WVU must take a computerized placement test before entering the program. The placement test can be taken one time only and must be taken before completing any coursework in the languages at WVU.

- Students who have studied languages for which there is no placement test should check with the coordinator for that language if placement in a class above 101 is appropriate.

- Those who complete the course in which they are placed with a B or better will be eligible to apply for retroactive credit for all applicable courses in the 101, 102, 203, and 204 sequences out of which they placed. Fees for this back credit are waived.
Credit by Examination

The Department of World Languages offers a credit by examination program for elementary, intermediate, and some advanced classes in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish only. Information about the program is available in the Department of World Languages, Literatures, and Linguistics. Students must take an examination for each course, and a registration fee applies for each examination.

Additional Points of Information

- World language courses are divided into elementary, intermediate, and advanced levels.
- The elementary level, courses 101 and 102, provides beginning work in understanding, speaking, reading, and writing the languages, with emphasis on communicative competence. The vocabulary is limited to words of high frequency.
- Courses numbered 100 are intensive and equal to courses 101 and 102. Students may receive credit for either course 101 and 102 or 100 but not for both.
- The intermediate level, courses 203 and 204, continues training in the four basic skills, with greater emphasis on reading. The vocabulary is greatly extended, especially the passive or recognition vocabulary.
- Courses numbered 200 are the intensive equivalent of courses 203 and 204. Students may receive credit for courses 203 and 204 or 200 but not both.
- Advanced-level courses are numbered 300 or 400.
- Core language courses are 301, 302, 303, and 304, except for Spanish where they are 310 or 314, 311, 312, and 313. In these courses, the four basic skills are further developed. All classroom questions and discussions are in the foreign language. The work is based on reading assignments followed by classroom discussions, oral drills, and written exercises.
- Above 304, each language numbers courses differently. Please select courses carefully.

Students who earn a degree in the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences must complete the University requirements, the College requirements for their specific degree program, and their major requirements.

Minors

All students have the possibility of earning one or more minors; view a list of all available minors and their requirements (http://catalog.wvu.edu/undergraduate/minors) here. Please note that students may not earn a minor in their major field.

Certificate of Global Engagement

Students in the Eberly College, regardless of their major, can earn a Certificate of Global Engagement. Completion of the Certificate demonstrates the student's knowledge of diverse cultures, as well as the ability to communicate and interact effectively with people of different cultural backgrounds. Students will be required to apply their knowledge of contemporary issues and global social contexts to their course work and their broader citizenship. For details regarding Certificate requirements, please visit the Eberly College page (http://catalog.wvu.edu/undergraduate/eberlycollegeofartsandsciences/#otherdegreestext).

Admission Requirements
Entering freshmen are admitted directly into the major. Students coming from the Center for Learning, Advising, and Student Success or another unit must meet minimum requirements: 2.0 overall and a minimum of one language course with at least a C- (language courses do not include FCLT, FLIT, LANG, LING).

Benchmark Expectations
By the end of the second year in the major, students must have completed the appropriate foreign language 204 course and LING 311. A progress review will be completed in the middle of the 3rd semester. Students must retain a 2.25 GPA in courses that count toward the major by their junior year. All majors must meet with a WLLL department adviser each semester. Students who do not meet these benchmarks may be removed from their major.

For complete details on these requirements, visit the B.A. Degrees tab on the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences (http://catalog.wvu.edu/undergraduate/eberrlycollegeofartsandsciences/#bachelorofartstext) page.

Departmental Requirements for the B.A. in World Languages, Literature, and Linguistics

Students may select from six areas of emphasis (three language areas of emphasis in French, German, and Spanish; and three language studies areas of emphasis in Chinese studies, Italian studies and Russian studies) to complete a bachelor of arts in world languages. Each area of emphasis requires thirty-three hours of coursework beyond the intermediate level (203–204 or the equivalent) in the language of study, including a three-credit capstone experience. The capstone may be taken anytime after completion of twenty-one hours beyond the intermediate level (204 or the equivalent).

- Capstone Requirement: The university requires the successful completion of a Capstone course. The Capstone course is designated based upon the Area of Emphasis completed.

- Writing and Communication Skills Requirement: The World Languages, Literatures, and Linguistics Bachelor of Arts is a SpeakWrite Certified Program™ across each language Area of Emphasis. SpeakWrite Certified programs incorporate and develop students’ written, verbal, visual, and mediated communication skills across the curriculum.

- Calculation of GPA in the Major: World language majors must achieve a minimum grade point average of 2.25, both overall and in the major, to qualify for graduation.

- Residency Requirements: Students completing a major in world languages/world language studies at WVU must fulfill a residency requirement by completing at least fifteen credit hours on campus in their language/area of study, excluding courses numbered 100, 101, 102, 200, 203, 204, 493, and courses obtained through credit by examination.

- Benchmark Expectations: For details, go to the World Languages Admissions tab (p. 4).
