West Virginia University Institute of Technology

A Short History of WVU Tech

The West Virginia University Institute of Technology (WVU Tech) was established in February 1895 under the name, Montgomery Preparatory School located in Montgomery, WV. In its earliest years, the school provided academic preparation for students from Southern West Virginia who were bound for West Virginia University. Following changes of emphasis to address vocational instruction and teacher education in 1941, the college became the West Virginia Institute of Technology serving regional businesses and industries through baccalaureate education. In 1952, baccalaureate degrees in engineering were added. In 1996, the college was named West Virginia University Institute of Technology, when it became a regional campus of West Virginia University. In the 2016-2017 academic year following the acquisition of a new campus in Beckley, WVU Tech offered classes on both the Montgomery and Beckley campuses. Tech has moved in its entirety and will offer courses on only the Beckley campus from Fall 2017 onwards. WVU Tech offers a broad array of baccalaureate degrees in business, science, the humanities and social sciences, and offers 9 degrees in engineering, computer science and engineering technology that are ABET accredited and have received national rankings. Degrees include a general education curriculum that fosters educational breadth and career skills, and students engage in a wide range of service learning, athletic and extra-curricular activities. A WVU Nursing degree is offered on the Beckley Campus through WVU Tech, and the campus is also home to the Raleigh County Cooperative Extension Service and the LaunchLab to promote regional economic success.

MISSION

West Virginia University Institute of Technology provides an accessible and supportive environment in which students are guided to be active and contributing members of society by fostering intellectual and personal growth through comprehensive educational experiences.

VISION

To be a nationally-recognized and preeminent regional undergraduate STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) teaching institution with well-balanced curricula across diverse academic disciplines.

RESEARCH AND SCHOLARSHIP

As West Virginia’s flagship research institution, WVU undertakes scholarly activity that addresses the challenges most critical to today’s world and the practice of multidisciplinary research. At WVU Tech, a division campus where the educational mission is of paramount importance, faculty pursue an active agenda of research and scholarship which contributes to the vibrancy of their teaching and current knowledge in their fields.

WELL-BEING AND QUALITY OF LIFE

The Smith-Lever Act of 1914 created a Cooperative Extension Service for each land-grant institution. The purpose of the Extension Service was to disseminate the findings of the universities’ agricultural stations and provide training and programs on home economics and other practical subjects. WVU has sustained its commitment to the state by supporting an Extension Service office with a faculty presence in all of West Virginia’s 55 counties, staffed by faculty county agents.

The educational programs and initiatives of the WVU Extension Service focus on service to the state and exemplify West Virginia University’s commitment to the public good by connecting the knowledge and research of WVU with citizen and community needs. The Extension Service’s programs are driven by four major initiatives: (1) 4-H youth development; (2) family and health; (3) agriculture and natural resources; and (4) community, workforce, and economic development.

The Raleigh County Extension office is located in the Neville Street Building on the WVU Tech campus in Beckley.

SOCIAL JUSTICE AND MEDIATION OF CONFLICT

WVU Tech is committed to assuring that all individuals and groups have access to all of the benefits of the University. Such assurance is possible only in an atmosphere of mutual respect and trust, where basic concepts and principles of social justice are integral to daily practice. All groups on campus (students, faculty, staff, administrators, and constituent groups) have the legal and moral responsibility to promote opportunity, equality, civility, and respect for all peoples. WVU Tech is also committed to assuring the resolution of conflict through mediation, a structured process of communication in which conflicting parties are guided in discussion and resolution of matters of conflict.
